

Conference Access and Other Key Information

Mobile App

This year's conference will feature a mobile app as SFE continues offer a digital environment. Go to your app store to download the free mobile app to your mobile device. The app contains information about each of the sessions, the session speakers, and exhibitors. You can post comments and photos using the social networking feature, network with other attendees, and participate for prizes through the event games.

Conference Agenda

When you access the app, the Conference Agenda appears in the upper left-hand corner. When you select a session, you will see details regarding the session including date and time, continuing education credits eligibility, and a link to the speaker's information.

Session and Conference Evaluation

Feedback from participants is extremely valuable. The app will allow you to provide electronic feedback on the sessions that you attend. Just click the "Rate Now" when you have the session open on the app to provide a review.

Exhibitors

When you access the app, an icon for exhibitors is in the bottom left-hand corner. Some of the exhibitors have provided links to videos, websites or documents that provide information that the exhibitor felt was critical. Most have a "Request Follow Up" button that you can click on to email questions or schedule a follow up meeting. Please spend time with the exhibitors during the event and let them know you appreciate the fact that they chose to spend time with you.

Attendee Profile

We would like to encourage all participants to update their profile. Some basic information including your name and email address will be pre-loaded into the system. Updating your profile to include your photo and other information will make it easier to build connections with others at the conference. You can find a link to your profile via the ME option on the bottom right of the mobile app.

Session Recordings

You will be given a personal access link after the conference. Access to these recordings is restricted to registered attendees and should not be shared with anyone internally or externally. Sharing of access links will result in registration fees for each occurrence.

Games, Prize Drawings and Social Networking

A significant number of attendees will be at this year's conference. We are offering two different games for your enjoyment which will earn you eligibility for prize drawings at the close of the conference. Posting photos and exchanging information on the Social Networking site was a huge hit in 2021 and will also be featured in this year's conference. We encourage you to watch the leader boards!
